

THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY PARENTS COUNCIL & LEADERSHIP GIVING CIRCLE

YOU'RE INVITED TO JOIN THE HOPKINS PARENTS COUNCIL

The Hopkins Parents Council offers undergraduate parents meaningful opportunities for involvement and investment in programs that enrich our students' undergraduate experience and provide a balance to the university's rigorous academic program. As a council member you can help guide the development of student life programs, support those programs through leadership gifts to the Hopkins Parents Fund, encourage support from other parents, and participate in a wide range of student-parent activities. You will play a crucial part in helping all students benefit fully from their Hopkins experience.

THE ESSENTIALS

As a council member you will:

- Gather with university leadership on the Homewood campus for at least one of two council meetings per year.

- Make an annual Leadership Giving Circle gift at the Leader level or above to the Hopkins Parents Fund to support enrichment of the undergraduate student experience.
- Educate parents on the immediate impact their Hopkins Parents Fund gifts will have on every student, and encourage them to pledge their support.
- Serve in an advisory capacity to the Vice Provost for Student Affairs.
- Attend regional and international Johns Hopkins University events when possible.

ADDITIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

You may also help us engage students and parents by:

- Making welcome calls to incoming parents living in your local area.
- Hosting regional or international university receptions and events.
- Hosting accepted student receptions, or participating in other recruitment and enrollment activities.
- Participating in PIN, the Parent Internship Network, by posting your organization's existing student internships and full-time opportunities and creating new ones.
- Volunteering to share your career experience with students via the Career Center's programs.

You can make an immediate impact on the experience of every undergraduate — and share in that experience at a deeper level — by joining the Hopkins Parents Council. Please consider this remarkable opportunity.

YOU'RE INVITED TO JOIN THE LEADERSHIP GIVING CIRCLE

As a parent or grandparent of a Hopkins student or alumnus, you are invited to become a member of the Leadership Giving Circle by making an annual gift of $5,000 or more to the Hopkins Parents Fund.

In addition to the personal satisfaction of knowing your investment enriches the student experience for all undergraduates, joining the circle deepens your connection with the Hopkins philanthropic community. Members are invited to the Leadership Giving Circle Reception during Family Weekend and Commencement, as well as other special on-campus and regional events that provide opportunities to meet key faculty, administrators, and fellow members. Members at the Leader level and above are offered reserved family seating at Commencement as well as name recognition on the Parents Fund Wall of Honor.

Dean level members have the opportunity to connect with the deans of the undergraduate schools.

Your membership in the circle will have an exceptional impact on the university and inspire others to make a similar investment in the lives of all Hopkins students.

All gifts to the Hopkins Parents Fund are counted toward the Rising to the Challenge campaign.
