STUDENT ORGANIZATION ADVISORS GUIDELINES 2018-2019

As 80% of the Johns Hopkins student population is involved in a student organization at the Johns Hopkins Homewood campus, it is important for us to ensure we are supporting them to thrive in their experiences. As we believe students make the world a better place when they thrive, we know there are many individuals who also can and already do support this mission by being an advisor to one of the 350+ student organizations on the Homewood campus.

WHAT IS AN ADVISOR

An advisor of a student organization is an individual who provides recommendations, support and guidance to members of the organization in which they will choose to act upon the advice given to plan or implement a plan for their organization. In doing this, advisors can take on the role of a mentor, supervisor, teacher, leader, team builder, motivator, mediator, reflective agent, policy interpreter, etc.

ADVISOR ELIGIBILITY:

- 1. A JHU full time faculty or staff
- Graduate student employees*
- 3. Graduate students or alumni members can be co-advise with the Category Coordinator of the category of the organization they wish to advise.

*Graduate student organizations cannot be advised by a graduate student. Graduate student employees are staff that work within an office in an official university capacity. Graduate students can work with the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement by email (slandi@jhu.edu) to discuss if they meet the requirements and expectations of being an official advisor for an undergraduate student organization.

WAYS TO BECOME AN ADVISOR

There are

- 1. Assigned: JHU full time faculty or staff may be assigned to a student organization based on their job responsibilities.
- 2. Requested: A student organization leader approaches you to be their advisor
- 3. Request:
 - a. Ask a student organization of your interest if they are interested in having you as their advisor by informing them of:
 - i. Why you want to be their advisor
 - ii. What you bring to the table
 - iii. How you hope to help them to achieve their goals.
 - b. Reach out to Student Leadership and Involvement team of your interest by email (slandi@jhu.edu).
 - i. You will be guided on how to find organizations of your interest and tips to outreaching to the organization of your choice to advise.
 - ii. You can be matched by the SLI team outreaching to organizations of your interest

Role of the Advisor Checklist

The Advisor checklist is a guide to evaluate oneself with working an organization

The Role of Ad	lvisor Checklist
This form is designed to help advisors and student officers determine a clear role for advisors in matters pertaining to student organizations. Directions: The advisor and each officer should respond to the following items, then meet to compare answers and discuss any differences. For any items, which are determined not to be the responsibility of the advisor, it would be valuable to clarify which officer will assume that responsibility. For each statement, respond according to the following scale: 1=Essential for the advisor 2=Helpful for the advisor to do 3=Nice, but they don't have to 4=Would prefer not to do 5=Asaboslutely not an advisor's role or advisors role.

Organization student officer roles

The university's policy, procedures and expectations on membership are on our website. Feel free to refer to refer ACPA Manual to help you process membership and recruiting on pages 20.

Types of Advisors

There are many ways to advise student organization leaders to help them thrive at managing their organizations and it is very helpful to be flexible to use different styles at different times in your experience in advising student organization leaders. (Penn State,

- 1. Developmental
- 2. Administrative
- 3. Delegator
- 4. Coach

These types of advisors can be used in different situations, different leaders, etc. More information can be found in the ACPA Manual on pages 2-3.

Advising Volunteers

It can be challenging to give advice to a student organization leader who volunteers to do the great work that they are doing. With this in mind, it is important to ensure that when giving advice:

- 1. You mention that you are giving advice rather than giving a directive. What is the difference?
 - a. Advice: this is my suggestion, recommendation.
 - b. Directive: this needs to happen
 - i. If you need to give a directive, say that this is a requirement and that there are no other options. (For example: Unfortunately, you would have to do it this way as it is a requirement.)
- 2. The student organization leaders may or may not take your advice.
- 3. Give many options if applicable.

More information can be found in the ACPA Manual on page 27 such as the GRAPE Theory of Motivation: Growth, Recognition, Achievement, Participation, Enjoyment (Adapted from Thundar Bolts, NDSU via the ACPA Manual).

Waivers

Student organization waivers can be found in the SLI Documents Library under the "Travel and Trip Documents" folder. Do not use the waivers in the ACPA Manual, please contact Student Leadership and Involvement by email slandi@jhu.edu.
