Meal Plan Change Period

Tuesday-Thursday, September 5-7

• Students have the first two weeks after move-in to test out their meal plans and have the option to change plans once for the academic year.

• This is the only chance to change meal plans for the academic year. There is no spring meal plan change period.

• Details on the process will be sent to students after the start of the semester.

• After the change period ends, students are not permitted any further changes to their plan selection for the year.
Specific Dietary Restrictions

- Our new Blue Jays are asked to complete a form as part of their Housing Portal on any dietary restrictions and allergens, it is important that this is filled out.

- Once we receive this information in early- mid-August, our dietitian and culinary team will be in touch before your Blue Jay arrives on-campus.

- Our scratch-based cooking systems means we have control over ingredients, so we can be nimble and flex to meet your Blue Jay’s specific needs without begin boring.

- We offer robust vegetarian and vegan options as well as foods made without gluten-containing ingredients. In an effort to help your Blue Jay feel confident in their food choices, we denote foods that contain any of the most common allergens or meet dietary preferences (vegetarian, vegan, kosher, etc.).
If students have any allergies and/or would like to learn more about the program, they can complete the form below. Once completed, they will receive an email from Dietitian, Jacqueline Weiss, and be able to sign up to meet with her.

The link to the form is: https://wkf.ms/3CeltOe or please scan the QR code below:
