Frequently Asked Questions

1. What changes can students expect from the merger of Medical Tutorials to ForagerOne?
   - Year-round and immediate access to robust research opportunities across the Hopkins Enterprise, including the School of Medicine, School of Nursing, School of Public Health.

2. What is the difference between Medical Tutorials and the other opportunities listed on ForagerOne?
   - The term "Medical Tutorials" will no longer be used for undergraduates. Faculty that offered opportunities with Medical Tutorials will be able to post on ForagerOne.

3. Will students still be notified when Tutorials are available each semester?
   - No. The term "Medical Tutorials" will no longer be used for undergraduates. Positions will be continuously posted year-round.

4. Can students find shadowing/practicums on ForagerOne?
   - Some faculty may offer shadowing within their research. This is at the discretion of the faculty member.

5. Will students still need to complete compliance forms and background checks?
   - Yes. Once selected for an opportunity, please speak to your research mentor for guidance.

6. Will ForagerOne research be for credit or pass/fail?
   - Each faculty member will determine compensation format whether credit, pay or volunteer.

7. Will ForagerOne opportunities be reflected on student transcripts?
   - Maybe. Please speak to your research mentor and academic advisor for guidance on receiving independent research credit.

8. Will opportunities still be restricted to sophomores, juniors and seniors or will freshmen have access to these opportunities?
   - All current JHU students will be able to access all posted opportunities on ForagerOne.

9. Am I required to use ForagerOne?
   - No, you are welcome to identify research opportunities or mentors through other means.

10. If students have questions, whom should they contact?
    - If you have additional questions, please email medicaltutorials@jhmi.edu.
    - For great tips on finding research, contacting faculty, funding projects, ForagerOne and more, visit the HOUR website or email HOUR@jhu.edu.