David L. Boren Undergraduate Scholarships	National Security Education Program	National Scholarships Advising Dr. Kelly Barry kbarry@jhu.edu	U.S. citizens and nationals who are full-time students with a GPA of 3.5 or higher. -A U.S. citizen at the time of application -A high school graduate, or have earned a GED -Matriculated in an undergraduate degree program located within the United States accredited by an accrediting body recognized by the U.S. Department of Education. Boren Scholars must remain matriculated in their undergraduate programs for the duration of the scholarship and may not graduate until the scholarship is complete. Applying to a study abroad program that meets home institution standards in a country outside of Western Europe, Canada, Australia, or New Zealand. Boren Scholarships are not for study in the United States. Deadline: See Website	http://www.jhu.edu/scholarships/alphalist.html http://www.borenawards.org The Boren Scholarship and Fellowship provide unique funding opportunities for U.S. undergraduate and graduate students to add an important international and language component to their educations by studying abroad. The Boren focuses on geographic areas, languages, and fields of study critical to U.S. national security and underrepresented in study abroad. For complete lists of eligible countries and eligible languages, see the official Boren website. Boren Scholarships are funded by the National Security Education Program (NSEP). Applicants should identify how their study abroad program, as well as their future academic and career goals, will contribute to U.S. national security. NSEP draws on a broad definition of national security, recognizing that the scope of national security has expanded to include not only the traditional concerns of protecting and promoting American well-being, but also the challenges of global society, including sustainable development, environmental degradation, global disease and hunger, population growth and migration, and economic competitiveness. In exchange for scholarship funding, all Boren Scholars must agree to the NSEP Service Requirement. Boren Scholarships are awarded for various durations: summer study abroad, one semester, full academic year. Preference is given to undergraduate applicants proposing a full-year academic study. Please note: Graduate students interested in the Boren Fellowship apply directly to the Boren; JHU nomination is not required.
